

ENERGY FUNDING RESOURCE SPECIALIST

The Alaska Energy Authority (AEA) is recruiting for an Energy Funding Resource Specialist. This is a full time position, range 20/22, located in Anchorage.

This position supports communities, regional entities and the State of Alaska in identifying and accessing funding mechanisms, both grants and loans, to support energy projects and programs as part of the Alaska Energy Authority's mission to reduce the cost of energy in Alaska. The position monitors federal, state, local and private funding opportunities to develop and support energy projects, systems and programs in Alaska and provides leadership in identifying creative funding solutions. The position also works with communities to assist them in increasing their financial literacy and improving the financial health of their utility.

Bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited university in Natural Resources, Social Services, Economics, Business, Journalism or a related field with at least three years of related experience. Must have a confident, professional demeanor and presence to effectively command attention and respect from a diverse audience, both internally and externally. Must be able to work with a wide range of audiences to convey information about the utility industry, business management and reporting. Must have the ability to successfully manage multiple tasks and projects simultaneously.
